If you are the parent of a two year old we're sure you've noticed, Senior Toddlers are the Napoleons of the child world. Short, dynamic, confident, curious, fearless... and they want it all!

It is important that at this developmental time, a two year old is allowed to begin making small, teacher-guided choices. Boundaries and consequences must be put in place to begin teaching the concepts of self-control and responsibility.

Our senior toddlers are kept busy throughout the day with both academic and life skills activities. Our low teacher/student ratio allows time for one-on-one learning. Budding academic skills such as learning Spanish, singing phonics and letter recognition songs, reading books and developing small and large motor skills are encouraged and developed through play.

At an age when it can be frustrating to hear, "I do it MYSELF!," our teachers find opportunities to teach. Skills such as feeding themselves with utensils, dressing themselves, drinking from a "real" cup, brushing their teeth, and using a real toddler sized potty are encouraged daily. Social and language skills are also making huge strides at this age, and our teachers focus on ways to encourage getting along and using vocabulary instead of tantrums to express wants.

All of this learning goes on in an environment of laughter, fun, music and lots of dancing (which is also great for gross motor skills!). At any point in the day (except naptime) you may walk by our twos class and see a group of our senior toddlers bopping and hopping around to happy tunes.

The twos are a very special age at Crabapple Academy. We look forward to the privilege of getting to know you and your child at this age when they are ready to conquer their little world.

"While we try to teach our children all about life, our children teach us what life is all about."
